ANNOUNCING . . . Capitol Federal pledges gift to JCCC

Capitol Federal Foundation pledged $500,000 to support the development of the recently opened Regnier Center at Johnson County Community College (JCCC). In recognition of this gift, the first-floor conference center is known as the Capitol Federal Conference Center.

The 6,000-square-foot technology-infused conference center is available for conferences, multimedia presentations, exhibitions, special events and banquets. It can be used as one large room or divided into quarters.

The Capitol Federal Foundation has supported JCCC for many years through the establishment of the Capitol Federal Scholarship Endowment through the JCCC Foundation and includes the college in its statewide Capitol Federal Savings Scholars Program.

"This project provides JCCC and the community with an excellent opportunity to further their mission, as well as our mission, of higher education," said Capitol Federal Foundation President Jack H. Hamilton.

"The college is grateful to Capitol Federal for the generosity of this pledge," said JCCC President Terry A. Calaway. "The conference center will be a resource for training and workforce development for both the college and the business community."

Opening of Aquarian Center brings changes

With the opening of the Bank's newest True Blue location at the Aquarian Center, 29th and Croco Road in Topeka, President Dicus announced changes in three managerial positions. He named Vice President-Branch Manager Elizabeth "Liz" Barranco to the manager position at the Aquarian Center office. "Liz's 24 years of experience with Capitol Federal, the trust customers have in her, and her commitment to serving the Topeka community are among the reasons for her appointment to the new branch," states President Dicus. "We know she will serve our Capitol Federal customers well." Most recently, Barranco served as manager of Topeka's 29th and Kansas office.

With Barranco's move, Jenny Morgison was promoted to Vice President-Branch Manager of the 29th and Kansas branch. Morgison joined Capitol Federal in December 1996 as

To fill the vacancy left by Morgison, Dawn Bicknell-Reiser was promoted to Assistant Vice President-Branch Manager of the Lawrence Target office.
